

The U17 Nike Girls and their coach Dan Highstead are taking their summer training to new heights by climbing the infamous Incline. The girls have completed the trip to the top once already with plans for several more trips. The total distance covered is about one mile, but the gain in elevation is nearly 2000 feet as you cover nearly 2800 railroad ties used as steps. Keep up the good word girls!