

Over 300 Colorado Rush Family stepped away from the soccer fields last Tuesday, June 4th, to take part in this years Hall of Fame Honor Banquet, honoring players of all levels with a sit down dinner and many special awards listed below.

Nelson Garcia, NBC 9 News Education Reporter was the M.C. for the evening, inspiring and praising players for their strong education goals and success of so many.

The awards given brought on a new sense of purpose for all who came. Many players who received awards motivated us all to do more and to appreciate all things in life even the hardships.

It was a night for all soccer players, parents and coaches to shine.

Here is a recap from now Rush Alumna Kaitlyn Brunworth:

The annual Rush Banquet is an event that all Rush players and families should attend. Yes, the banquet gives recognition and celebration to deserving players, but that is not all. The banquet is a time to bond and unite as a Rush family, spending time with the teammates and families of our club and strengthening our friendships. Moreover, the friends we surround ourselves with at Rush are successful and motivated individuals. The banquet highlights these successful people and sets them apart as role models for our club. If nothing else, hearing the inspiring stories of "Comeback Player of the Year," National Championship winning teams, and other award winners at the banquet will inspire the rest of our club members to keep up the Rush tradition of hard work and excellence.
